

Situation Cards

You've accepted a lift with a pal – the person behind you hasn't belted up.

What could you say?

Situation Cards

On the news you hear that a girl was facially injured, hitting the windscreen of her boyfriend's car.

What are you thinking?

Situation Cards

You've just pulled a girl you've fancied for ages.
She gets into your car and says "belt me up big boy".

How do you feel?

Situation Cards

Your friend's dad says "don't bother belting up in the back, we're only going a short distance".

What would you do?

Situation Cards

“Seat belts are for wimps” says this girl you’ve just picked up at the party.

What do you say?

Situation Cards

This person you fancy says “go on, undo your seat belt and give me a cuddle”.

You think YES!

What do you say?

Situation Cards

You think this girl you're with is on something. She says she is perfectly safe to drive and that it improves her concentration.

Convinced?

Situation Cards

You've decided to walk home after a party with a crowd of your pals. You've all had a few drinks and are spilling off the pavement.

Supposing?

Situation Cards

You've just passed your test.
It's your first time in a car with your date.

What's new?

Situation Cards

You've had a bit too much to drink. You feel sick and dizzy. "Let's go clubbing" say the crowd you're with.

What's going through your mind?

Situation Cards

There's this person you fancy – it's your lucky night. The drink is flowing.

They have a car. The car hits something.

Next day you've got a bruise on the head.

What's going through your mind?

Situation Cards

You're sticking to soft drinks because you've got the car.
You passed your test, your friends are quite envious.

How do you feel?

Situation Cards

No one gets caught drinking and driving – “go on have another” says your friend, you feel fine.

What do you say?

Situation Cards

Having a car gives me freedom: “know what I mean, nudge nudge, wink wink”.
Girls call it my passion wagon.

Do they?

Situation Cards

The only reason that she's going with him is "cause he's got wheels". If he didn't have the car she'd dump him.

Would she?

Situation Cards

Last thing my mum says before I go out is “watch crossing the roads”.
She must think I’m a 5 year old.

Does she?

Situation Cards

“Don’t forget to do up your seat belt”.

If I’ve heard it once I’ve heard it a thousand times.

My dad must think I’m stupid.

Does he?

Situation Cards

I do up my seat belt automatically.
I don't even think about it. I just can't imagine an occasion when I wouldn't do it.

Cool?

Situation Cards

I promised my dad before I went out that I wouldn't speed and now my friends are telling me to "floor it".

I say "if you want to speed get your own car".

Cool?

Situation Cards

My parents say that it's these other lunatic drivers that I have to look out for.

Who do they mean?

Situation Cards

Speed cameras are a menace to good drivers. The police are just using them to raise revenue.
It's just not fair.

Who says?

Situation Cards

Message to all nudists – “If you wear nothing else, wear your seat belt.”

Could be dodgy?

Situation Cards

All the wee kids are in bed.
The streets are empty the super woofers are blasting and your mates fancy a drive.

Are you up for that?

Situation Cards

“Top Gear” presenters drive fast in cars, putting them through their paces.

If they do it, what’s wrong with us having a burn-up?

Any thoughts?

Situation Cards

Manufacturers who build fast cars are encouraging drivers to speed.

Do you agree?

Situation Cards

Young people have quick reactions.
It's these "old geezers" who cause all the car crashes.
They should have their licences taken away aged 70.

Is this right?

Situation Cards

The insurance premium is very high for young drivers.

Is this fair?

Situation Cards

Some people say that guys who need to drive a big car are compensating for something else.

Are they just jealous?

Situation Cards

Some girls I know think it's a scream to get steaming and dodge the traffic.

They hold hands and run out laughing.

The drivers go mental.

Doh?

Situation Cards

Passed your test and out with your friends to a beach party in your car.

A few of them are getting tanked up to get in the mood.

How do you feel?

Situation Cards

Honestly, the chances of being caught drug driving are miniscule. Anyway, drugs improve your driving.

Don't they?

Situation Cards

The next thing I want to do is learn to drive.

I'll have freedom and feel more grown up.

I'll tell you now, I will never Drink and Drive.

True/False?

Situation Cards

I want to learn to drive quite soon but I've made my mind up, you won't ever see me breaking the speed limit.

Mmm...?

Situation Cards

Boys are much more under pressure from their mates to drink and drive than girls are.

Agree?

Situation Cards

When I have my mum as a passenger I'm much more careful about how I drive.

True?

Situation Cards

Guys that drive fast are “up themselves”.
Thrills come cheap
at the wheel of a car.

Or do they?

Situation Cards

When you've been clubbing, a taxi can cost too much.
It's OK to risk it.

Want a lift?

Situation Cards

Girls are more responsible drivers. They take fewer risks and are involved in fewer car crashes.

Why's that?

Situation Cards

Young men are under pressure to perform as drivers; show off in front of their mates.

Why's that?

Situation Cards

The truth is I can do without alcohol. My driver's licence means far too much to me. There is no way that I would risk losing it.

Agree?

Situation Cards

Drugs and driving: police should be regularly stopping drivers who are under suspicion of being stoned.

Agree?

Situation Cards

In some countries pedestrians are fined on the spot if they cross the road when the Red Man is showing.

If it saves lives, why don't we?

Situation Cards

Car crashes can happen if drivers are not experienced road users.

Where's the proof?

Situation Cards

People who are responsible pedestrians make good drivers.

Why?

Situation Cards

They say that if your parents are good drivers, there is a chance that you will be too.

Why?

Situation Cards

You've just been dumped and you're driving home by car.
Suddenly you feel very upset.

Safe to drive?

Situation Cards

You have just heard great news.
You keep looking at yourself in the rear-view mirror grinning from ear to ear.

Safe to drive?

Situation Cards

Long, straight road ahead; no-one to see you using your mobile. You said you'd phone.

What's the harm?

Situation Cards

“Hands-free” sets are great for keeping in touch with home and business when you’re on the road.

No worries?

Situation Cards

It's scary to think of parents who let their kids drive their high-performance cars.

An accident waiting to happen?

Situation Cards

Boy-racers are a menace to society.

They have no respect for others and often it's an innocent person who pays the price.

Who cares?

Situation Cards

Look, not every 17 year old is a boy-racer. Plenty pass their test with Pass Plus and don't see the point in speeding.

Cool?

Situation Cards

Some people go out for a real session, get a taxi home and drive to work early next morning.

Want a lift?

Situation Cards

You've just seen the driver having another one. That's three.

What are you thinking?

Situation Cards

Your mobile is ringing.
It's your friend.
You're at the traffic lights.

If you're driving what do you do?

If you're on foot what do you do?

Situation Cards

You hear that a classmate has lost his licence. Some people say he was unlucky to be caught.

Has luck got anything to do with it?
